IDENTIFIED—FOUL PLAY FEARED.

Body of Man Killed at Shaftsburg Said to Have Been Stolen.

The man who was killed on the Grand Trunk railway between Shaftsburg and Perry ten days ago has been identified as Nicholas Perlus, of Langdon, Dakota. The gentleman left home two weeks ago to visit his son, at Berlin, Canada, who recently returned from Rome, where he has been pursuing his studies. The identification was brought about by means of his railroad ticket and use of the telegraph wires with the railroad agent at Langdon.

At Chicago he took the fast train over the Grand Trunk which passes here about 11 o'clock p. m. The mystery is how he could have fallen from the train. He carried about fifty dollars with him, but when the remains were discovered the next morning, only about fifty cents were found. This leads to the thought that there was foul play, the supposition being he was enticed to the platform of the coach, relieved of his money, and pushed from the train.

His daughter came to Morris, Saturday, to claim the remains but decided not to remove them when she learned how badly they were mangled.

Lansing, Mich., October 13.—Shaftsburg people are exercised over an outrage which they think has been perpetrated there. On September 29th an old man was cut to pieces by the cars near that place, and his remains were buried in the Shaftsburg cemetery. The dead man's relatives sought permission to remove the remains to Canada, and Secretary Baker, of the state board of health, denied the request, deeming the removal unsafe. Today Dr. Baker received a letter from Shaftsburg, stating that the grave had been tampered with, and that it is suspected that the body had been removed. The writer wanted to know if the local authorities had the right to investigate and ascertain if the body had been taken away. He was assured that they had, and further developments are expected.

Later: The scare proves to be without foundation. The body was taken up and placed in a better coffin by his relatives.

A club has been organized by fifteen of Owosso's young men, under the title of "The Alpine Club," and rooms secured at 119 West Main street. The rooms are being fixed up in a cozy manner. A number of the best papers and magazines have been put on file and more will be added. They have their rules formulated and the first member breaking them will be expelled. The boys think this scheme far ahead of hanging around the street corners, so they are sparing no expense to made their new quarters as comfortable and homelike as possible.

D. E. Herrick, aged 40, a farm laborer living on the county line midway between Dorand and Duffield, is under arrest on a charge of incest upon his daughter, Annie, aged 14 years. The girl stated that herself, her mother, father and another sister, aged 6 years, occupied the same bed for years past. Herrick was bound over for further examination.

Will Entertain the Visitors.

The "Carnival of Fun" to be held in Grand Rapids, October 26th to 29th, promises to be the most gorgeous public demonstration ever seen outside of the New Orleans Mardi Gras, even surpassing it in many features. Spring & Company, the largest and oldest Dry Goods establishment opens its hospitable doors and invites all visitors to make their store headquarters while in the city. They will check and care for all parcels and deliver them to the depots free of charge. But what will prove the greatest benefit to visitors will be a stupendous special reduced price sale which this firm will inaugurate in all departments during the week of the Carnival, affording a most excellent opportunity for the people to purchase at small cost their dry goods, cloaks, carpets and other supplies for the winter.

Spring & Company are perhaps the best known of any Dry Goods firm in Michigan, and people who attend the Carnival will quite naturally seek them out.
